

TIMES COLONIST \(v\)

HEADLINES:

Man changes plea to guilty in 2011 Langford murder \(/entertainment/man-changes-plea-to-guilty-in-2011-langford-murder-1.310579 \)

Victoria group gets Dan Needles play rights

[Adrian Chamberlain \(/authors?author=Adrian Chamberlain\)](/authors?author=Adrian Chamberlain) / Times Colonist

June 3, 2013

A Victoria-based production company has optioned a play by Dan Needles, the creator of the popular Wingfield series of plays.

Less Bland Productions has acquired the rights for Needles' play Ed's Garage for development as a TV series. The company's executive producer Leslie D. Bland said he believes Ed's Garage would make a good situation comedy.

"We are very excited about acquiring the rights to Dan's play and look forward to working with him as we develop it as a television series," Bland said in a statement.

Needles' other plays include Letter from Wingfield Farm, Wingfield's Progress and Wingfield's Folly, all solo shows starring actor Rod Beattie.

© Copyright 2013